Dunbar, the sculptor, to represent this jurisdiction.

Friend U. S. J. Dunbar, ex-president of Congressional Council, and one of the Washington senators elected to represent this jurisdiction at the Senate meeting in July, is a native of London, Ontario, where he was born January 13, 1862. After studying sculpture with his brother, A. T. Dunbar, he opened a studio at Detroit, Mich., in 1883. A year later he came to Washington and his career here has been successful. He has been president and vice president of the Society of Washington Artists since his advent in the city. Mr. Dunbar has made 106 busts, including among his subjects, the late Lord Pauncefote, Wade Hampton, W. W. Corcoran now in the Corcoran Gallery of Art, Hendricks and Van Buren, both in the Senate Chamber, one of Wm. O'Grady Partridge for that sculptor, one for Gen. Albert Pike, which was done for the Columbian Exposition at Chicago; reliefs and busts of Crosby S. Noyes, and H. M. Rice, of Minnesota, which is in the State Capitol at St. Paul; one for Alexander Graham Bell in bronze, and Mrs. Bell in marble; Gardner G. Hubbard, father of Mrs. Bell, in bronze; Benj. F. Isherwood, formerly chief engineer of the United States Navy; C. H. Haswell, a noted engineer of New York, and Wm. R. Singleton, late grand secretary of A. A. M. in Oak Hill Cemetery in this city. He has also made 31 death masks, including those of 4 members of the U. S. Supreme Court, several members of the various cabinets and the late Senator Hamlin. He has designed a number of Indian figures for the National Museum and has done similar work for buildings in different parts of the country. His replica of the statue of liberty on the dome of the Capitol which was done for the government building at the St. Louis Exposition is considered by many to be Mr. Dunbar's best production. The statue is 19 feet 6 inches high, and in its construction he used 41-1/2 tons of clay, and 62 barrels of plaster, and spent 8 months on the work. One of the most prominent pieces of work done by Mr. Dunbar in this city is the statue of Gov. Shepherd in front of the Municipal Building.

The membership of the National Union in this jurisdiction are very happy to have such a man as Friend Dunbar to represent this jurisdiction.

HENLEY REGATTA CROWDS LONDON

AMERICAN RUSH HEAVY

London, July 4.—The Henley regatta brought many Americans to London, the chief attraction, of course, being the entries from the other side. This and the coming Ritchie-Welch fight, to say nothing of the contest between Gunboat Smith and the French idol, Carpentier, which also takes place in London, insures the continued prosperity of London hotels for at least another fortnight to come.

Lord Charles Hope, the younger brother of the Marquis of Linlithgow, is going to America at the end of August to play the United States open golf championship. Lord Charles is probably the best of the younger amateur golfers. He was Francis Quimby's predecessor as the amateur champion of France and it seems likely that he will be the only British entrant in this year's United States championship.

Mrs. Potter Palmer, of Chicago, returned to the Piccadilly Hotel this week after a somewhat prolonged stay in Paris.

Judge and Mrs. Clinton Gray arrived at the Berkeley Hotel from New York for their usual summer stay.

Other recent arrivals at the Berkeley include Mrs. Gordon Forbes, Mrs. Will Gibson and Andrew Coats, all of New York, who came from Paris where they went for the Automobile race.

Hudson Maxim, the inventor, with Mrs. Maxim, arrived at the Savoy this week from New York. At the same hotel registered Gustave Amara, manager of the German Theatre, New York; Cornelius Fellows, Mrs. Gertrude Vanderbilt Pincus, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Brown. Mr. Brown was for many years head of the New York office of the Cunard Company.

C. P. Lippincott, of Philadelphia, is staying at the Carlton, having arrived for the amateur athletic championships. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wilks and daughter, of St. Louis, left this week for Paris to begin an automobile tour of France and Germany. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Fish have left for Hamburg.

Arrivals at Claridge's include Mrs. Saltonstall and family, of Boston. Among the arrivals this week from the Pacific Coast are Gertrude Mack and McKinley Bittlinger, of San Francisco, who registered at the Savoy. ## RAW MILK AND CREAM are of all single causes the most prolific for the production of diseases.

Ill health or lack of cleanliness among dairy hands, stable dirt, soiled utensils, impure rinsing water, together with the warmth and dust of the stable, are the principal causes of contamination, and as milk is the best-known medium for breeding germs, these rapidly multiply into many millions.

Tuberculosis, scarlet fever, diphtheria, septic sore throat, and notably typhoid and other intestinal diseases, are often caused by raw milk and cream, and no amount of inspection can be relied upon to prevent milk contamination at all times.

The only reliable means for preventing milk infections is pasteurization, and this simple treatment does not change the character of the milk nor affect its nutritive value or its digestibility.

We can home-pasteurize milk by bringing it to near boiling, then cool, and keep cold and covered until used.

Even entirely healthy adults who would ordinarily not be affected by impure food if they continue drinking impure milk and cream long enough will eventually undermine their natural resistance and become subject to attacks of sickness, the underlying cause of which is usually not suspected.

But children, sick people, and all who are in a rundown condition should in particular never drink raw milk or raw cream, nor eat ice cream made of them.

The Health Officer of the District of Columbia will furnish free information as to the average grade of safety of the milk and cream, raw or pasteurized, sold by any milk dealer in this city.
